For the Second Time Iron Mountain Railway Train

MEETS WITH MISHAP

Engineer Caspar Crushed to Death, and Fireman Rafferty, Injured
In Accident Last Spring,
May Not Survive.

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—The St. Louis and Iron Mountain railway fast mail train, which was late in leaving the union station, jumped the track while making up lost time at the city limits this morning.

Engineer John Caspar of St. Louis, forty-five years old, was killed.

The injured were: Fireman Peter Rafferty of this city, who sustained broken bones; Mail Clerks J. H. J. James, broken bones, serious; H. Jewson of St. Louis, internal injuries; E. G. Martin, left arm broken, internal injuries; J. A. Wooster, W. P. Tate, W. J. Howe, W. W. Otis, R. K. Acanary, H. R. Coleman.

The accident occurred within a short distance of where the same train was similarly wrecked last spring. Behind the engine were three mail cars. The engine and two of the cars plunged from the track at a sharp curve and went down an embankment. The third car did not fall down the embankment.

Engineer Caspar was crushed to death. Fireman Rafferty was so badly injured it is believed he cannot survive. He was injured in the wreck last spring and had been out of the hospital only two weeks. Only two of the mail clerks are seriously injured, the others being badly bruised.

GOT ON ANOTHER.

Alleged Defaulter Did Not Sail on the Carmelina.

New York, Oct. 11.—Manuel Silveria, the alleged defaulting Havana agent for the firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co., is not on board the steamer Carmelina, on which he left Havana Oct. 2, but on another steamer, which he boarded at sea two days after leaving the Cuban capital, according to information given out here. It is said that the present whereabouts of the Carmelina is known and that the destination of the other steamer, to which Silveria and his family were transferred, is also known. The charge of default of more than $1,000,000, which has been made against Silveria, was made, according to Attorneys Sullivan and Cromwell, who made the announcement after news of the Carmelina and the other steamer had been received in this city.

KILLING FROSTS.

They Fell Wednesday Night as Far South as Northern Georgia.

Louisville, Oct. 11.—According to reports received by the weather bureau killing frosts fell Wednesday night in the central valley, Tennessee and as far south as northern Georgia, and light ones in Florida. Freezing temperature prevailed in Tennessee and Kentucky. At Nashville thin ice formed. There was a heavy frost at Memphis and vicinity, in Arkansas and northern Mississippi.

At Waco it was reported there was light frost in low places in central Texas. Cotton was nipped in some localities.

WANTS LAST GAME.

Ten Thousand Dollars Offered For Final Contest.

Denver, Oct. 11.—George M. Reid of this city has telegraphed Garry Hermann, president of the National Baseball commission, offering $10,000 for the seventh game of the world's championship series. The message reads: "In case the seventh game is necessary to decide world's championship Denver guarantees $10,000 if played in this city. Weather is perfect for ball playing." The reply came as follows: "Telegram received and noted. Thanks for suggestion and offer. Place of deciding game must be decided later at session of commission."

CARRIED ALL MONTHS.

Cotton Advanced as High as Twenty-Nine Points Thursday.

New York, Oct. 11.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 21 to 29 points, which carried all months through the 11-cent mark to the new high level for the season. Covering by recent sellers and aggressive bull support on reports of more or less general frosts over eastern and central belts were bullish factors in connection with higher Liverpool cables and reports that spinners had been free buyers of spot cotton late Wednesday. Realizing was very heavy immediately following the call and prices broke about 10 points from the top.

Ristori Buried.

Rome, Oct. 11.—The funeral of the late Adelaide Ristori took place on Thursday. The hearse, which was covered with floral offerings, was followed through the principal streets by government and city authorities and thousands of friends of the great actress.

Disappointment In Love Responsible For Deed.

SMITH ALSO SUICIDES

Entering Schoolhouse Cleveland Man Sends Two Bullets Into Head of Lady Teacher and Blows Out His Brains.

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—In the presence of sixty pupils of the South Euclid schools, Harry Smith twenty-five years of age, shot to death Miss Mary Shepherd, a teacher twenty-two years of age, Wednesday afternoon. Cornered behind in the barn in the rear of his home in Warrensville, two hours later, Smith shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Four policemen with drawn revolvers, and supported by eight armed farmers, were about to rush on young Smith when he committed suicide.

Disappointment in love is said to have been the motive for the murder. Smith, who was a fourth cousin to Miss Shepherd, had wooed her for some time, and recently was rejected. He brooded over the unhappy ending of his courtship, and Wednesday afternoon, first resigning his position, bought a revolver and went to the South Euclid school. Miss Shepherd responded to his knock. He walked in, and for a few moments talked with her in the hall. Suddenly he whipped out his revolver, placed it against her head and fired twice, both bullets crashing through her brain. Panic spread among the pupils, who rushed screaming from the building. Some of the girls fainted.

Smith leisurely walked away and boarded a car for Warrensville. The news of the crime spread rapidly, and in less than half an hour a posse was in full pursuit. The identity of the murderer was quickly established. Chief of Police Kopler was notified and dispatched four policemen to Smith's home in Warrensville, a short distance from the school. On the suburban car Smith confessed to the conductor that he had killed Miss Shepherd, and remarked: "They will have to kill me to get me."

Reaching home a few minutes before the arrival of the police Smith told his father of the crime. When his pursuers came in sight the young man ran from the house to the rear of the barn. His father remained in the house. A loaded shotgun was leaning against one side of the house, but was passed by Smith, who evidently had determined not to put up a fight, but to end his life as soon as surrounded. When the posse got within a few feet of him, calling for his surrender, he placed the revolver against his head and blew out his brains.

PLAGUE AND CHOLERA.

Boards of Health on Pacific Coast Notified to Be Vigilant.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The marine hospital service has been informed through the state department of the appearance of plague at Osaka, Japan, and of cholera at Shanghai, China. The number of cases of cholera is unknown, but seventy-six deaths occurred last week and fifty the week before. Surgeon General Wyman regards the situation as serious, and has notified board of health officers of the Pacific coast to be on their guard.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.

Dead Man Accused of Having Taken Large Sum of Money.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—According to a statement which the Public Ledger publishes on the authority of a member of the Wampole company, Henry K. Wampole, the drug manufacturer, whose body was found recently in the East river, New York, died an embezzler of a large sum of money. It is asserted by the Public Ledger that Wampole robbed his business partners systematically of $500,000, and maybe more.

COMPROMISE TICKET.

It Is Not Entirely Satisfactory to Followers of Hearst.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Democracy of New York county Wednesday night nominated a judiciary ticket that was seemingly intended to be a compromise between the adherents of old line Democrats and of candidates favored by the Independence league. The ticket, however, has not proved entirely satisfactory to the followers of Mr. Hearst, and a statement issued by the league hints that the Tammany ticket may not be endorsed in full.

TUNNEL FATALITIES.

Three Men Lose Their Lives and Several Others Made Unconscious.

New York, Oct. 11.—Three men were killed and a dozen others rendered unconscious by an explosion and fire in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under Long Island City Thursday.

THE SELLS-FLOTO SHOW.

City Tax Came Very Near Knocking Out the Performance Here Yesterday.

The Sells-Floto show reached Bryan yesterday morning, spread their canvas on the plaza near the H. & T. C. depot and got about ready for the parade, for which large crowds were waiting on the streets, when the announcement was made publicly by a representative of the show that no performance would be given. This announcement was due to a disagreement with the city authorities about taxes, the show declining to pay the amount required for such performances. The crowds began to scatter, the side show canvas was partially taken down, and it looked for awhile like they intended to pack up and leave. The city stood pat, however, and later the management of the show cut out the reserved seat charge, and the performances were given at a lower license charge as provided by law.

The parade was given at noon, and the crowd about filled the main tent, which is said to have a seating capacity approximating five thousand, at the afternoon performance. Barring a few features the show is ordinary, and did not arouse much enthusiasm. These notable features included a tight wire performance, a couple

MARSHAL SOULT.

English Views of the Famous Lieutenant of Napoleon.

"When I had Soult as my opponent I could eat, drink and amuse myself without fear of being surprised. It was not that he failed to be a great commander. He was wonderful in his way; he knew how to collect 100,000 men at a fixed point on a fixed date, but when he had collected them he never knew the least in the world what to do with them."

So said Wellington, and on this occasion he actually ate Soult's dinner, which was in course of preparation for him. But, though the capture of the French marshal seemed inevitable, he was already "beyond the toils, having by a supreme effort extricated himself from perils as fearful as ever beset a general."

It was a masterly retreat, and throughout it he was not only watching for the best advantages to be gained, but testing the spirit of his men. His hand was almost on their pulses, his eye was ever watchful, and suddenly, by a stroke almost theatrical in its effect, he "drew up the troops, 20,000 in number, on the position he had occupied two months before at the battle of Braga," thus rousing the spirits of his soldiers.

He continued the retreat, facing every difficulty of country and weather, but never deterred, and finally crossed the Cava do "in full time, for the English guns were thundering on the rear."

THEIR WEAK POINTS.

The Fears and Superstitions of Some Famous Men.

All great people have had their follies, which is another way of saying that all have their weak points. Dr. Johnson, with all his philosophy, was not without a superstition. He was very careful not to enter a room with his left foot foremost. If by any chance he did so he would immediately step back and re-enter with his right foot foremost. He was terribly afraid of death, too, and would not suffer it to be mentioned in his presence.

Julius Caesar, to whom the shouts of thousands of the enemy were but sweet music, was mortally afraid of the sound of thunder and always wanted to get underground to escape the dreadful noise.

Marshal Saxe, who loved to look upon the ranks of opposing armies, fled and screamed in terror at the sight of a cat.

Peter the Great could scarcely be persuaded to cross a bridge, and whenever he placed his foot on one he would cry out with fear. Like the great man he was, he tried to overcome his weakness, but he was never able to do so. And Byron would never help any one to salt at table, nor would he be helped himself, and if any salt were spilled he would immediately get up and leave.

WILL RAISE ORANGES.

Beeville Station to Set Out Orchard of Satsuma and Dugat Varieties.

College Station, Texas, Oct. 10—The State of Texas is going into the orange business if the plans of Profs. J. W. Carson, acting director of the Texas experiment stations, and E. J. Kyle, of the horticultural department, are carried into execution. The plan is to set out a commercial orchard of Satsuma and Dugat oranges at the Beeville experiment station and to demonstrate the suitability of the climate and soil of Southwest Texas for producing oranges and other citrus fruits.

The Satsuma and Dugat are hardy oranges, which have been tried at the Beeville station, and their adaptability to the climate has been proven. The Dugat is a seedling, originated by Mr. Dugat of Beeville. It has the general characteristics of the Satsuma, but is smoother and has a more delicate flavor.

The grape fruit, so extensively grown in California, will also be tested on a considerable scale at the Beeville station. Along with these important experiments in growing citrus fruits will be carried on tests in varieties of truck crops and the use and value of different kinds of fertilizers.

The plans for these experiments were announced by Profs. Carson and Kyle on their return a day or two ago from a visit of inspection to the Beeville experiment station. They report that a number of improvements have been made by the local director, Mr. Washka, and the station is in good condition.

BRYAN, TEXAS, OCTOBER 12

Standard Oil is on trial in Ohio and Water-Pierce is "next" in Texas.

There is nothing now left of the Lucas oil gusher, which made Beaumont famous, except a hole in the ground.

Some of those whose names were printed in the Good Government Club list at Houston have come forward to prove an alibi.

Methodist ladies and children to the number of one hundred will invade the cotton patches near Temple today for the purpose of raising church money.

It is alleged that Roosevelt has appropriated another democratic measure in the income tax and will publicly advocate it and probably urge it in his message.

San Marcos has raised more than the amount necessary to secure the new Baptist College, of which Rev. J. M. Carroll has been elected president. The amount raised is $24,000.00.

Death visited the base ball diamond at Rolla, Mo., in a peculiar manner. Two of the players collided with great force while trying to catch a ball, and the teeth of one were embedded in the forehead of the other and broken off, from which he expired almost instantly.

The possible spectacle of 150 students attending classes and living in tents at the Agricultural and Mechanical college will be an object lesson for the thirteenth legislature to ponder over. Texas needs young men with technical training and Texas will see that they are properly taken care of and encouraged hereafter.—Fort Worth Star.

There is no knowing the amount of mental anguish suffered by the hundreds of small boys in this city yesterday when the announcement was given out, and prevailed for some time, that there would be no show. What does the small boy care for city taxes when there are elephants and calliopes, monkeys, peanuts, red lemonade and spotted horses just everywhere you look?

TEXAS COTTON MILLS

Georgia produced 1,900,000 bales of cotton as her contribution to the cotton crop of 1905-06. The figures for Texas for the same crop were 2,674,730 bales: That is Texas raised 774,740 bales more than Georgia.

But Georgia consumes more cotton in her mills than does Texas. The figures are: Georgia, 514,673 bales consumption; Texas, 36,896 bales. The year's increase of Georgia's consumption is nearly as great as the total Texas consumption. Texas raises 774,740 bales of cotton more than Georgia, but consumes 77,777 bales less.

The figures show plainly that Texas is very much behind in the matter of cotton mills. What are our capitalists going to do about it?—Houston Chronicle.

RAISING CHURCH MONEY.

The ever perplexing problem "how to raise church money" has been solved, at least for so long as the cotton picking season lasts and the price remains good. It remained for the ladies of the First Baptist church to lead the way in this novel method of securing funds. Just now there's need for a considerable sum in their treasury and they are turning every turn they can to get the cash. Tuesday about fifteen of them repaired to the cotton field of Jake Gordon on the Goodrich farm and gathered about fourteen hundred pounds of the fleecy staple. The ladies went at the work, most of them for the first time, with an inspiration born of determination and as a result the exchequer is several dollars ahead. They declare that this was only a trial trip and they expect to swoop down on other fields in the near future. If so this will go a long way toward solving the labor problem as well as the financial problem.—Marlin Democrat.

The Salamander.

In Andrews' "Anecdotes Ancient and Modern" (1789) one reads, "Should a glass house fire be kept up without extinction for a longer term than seven years there is no doubt but that a salamander would be generated in the cinders." This probably accounts for the popular idea that a salamander lives in the fire, a fallacy so far removed from the truth that the curious lizard-like beast so called cannot endure even the heat of the sun, but skulks away under stones to avoid it. It will never lose its reputation for fire eating, though, which lingers still in the heating utensil that is named after it.

Propriety and Clothes.

The ladies of Lamu surpass those of all other nations in retiring modesty, for they not only hide their faces, but walk about under a small tent, which requires the assistance of a servant to carry it. It is not surprising to hear that they have a very bad reputation for propriety, for in Africa female respectability is in inverse ratio to the quality of clothes worn.—Elliot's "East Africa."

The Mystery of the Heavens.

Look through a telescope at some tiny star invisible to the naked eye. The light from that star perhaps left its surface before the time of William the Conqueror. It may be—it is not quite impossible—that the tiny star has since those days actually left off shining, but still we see it in our sky because the rays which started while it yet shone are arriving moment by moment, telling us the story of what the star was like hundreds of years ago, before it parted with its brightness. Perhaps, again, we are examining through a large telescope a faint and faroff nebula—a mass of whirling gases the light of which has taken, say, 10,000 years to get there. We see what the nebula was like in prehistoric ages. It may since then have lessened in size and changed in shape. It may now wear a very different aspect, and men looking from earth 10,000 years hence will be able to see what that nebula was like in our days. All these things help us to understand what the immensity of the stellar system is, and, yet more, to imagine dimly what the measurement and extent of creation must be if any such star systems float side by side throughout the vast domains of space.—Chambers' Journal.

How to Remove a Corn; Try It.

Expose the corn and pass the finger tips of your right hand over it slowly and caressingly, at the same time sending a vibration from the brain to the corn. If it is a soft corn 413 vibrations per second will suffice; if a hard corn, put on a forced draft. Repeat slowly, "I am now sending a current of thought force into my corn and so separating, deducing, disintegrating, rendering, splitting, sundering, splintering, snipping, dwelling, whittling, dispersing, dislocating, eliding, divorcing, pulverizing, slashing, slicing and dissecting it that presently it will pass away. Repeat it three times; then, with rising inflection, "Avaunt, avaunt, avaunt!" Finish by repeating the password: "The universe is mine. I am it." The corn will at first look extremely surprised, then wilt and fade beautifully from sight.—New Thought.

A Nice Distinction.

A well known Atlantan has a wife with a sharp tongue. Jones had come home about 2 in the morning rather the worse off for a few highballs. As soon as he opened the door his wife, who was waiting for him in the accustomed place at the top of the stairs, where she could watch his uncertain ascent, started upbraiding him for his conduct. Jones went to bed and when he was almost asleep could hear her still scolding him unmercifully. He dropped off to sleep and awoke after a couple of hours, only to hear his wife remark, "I hope all the women don't have to put up with such conduct as this." "Annie," said Jones, "are you talking again or yet?"—Kansas City Star.

FAULTY INDIGESTION

Quickly Shatters the Nervous System and Should be Given Attention at Once.

If the sufferer with weak nerves only realized that a faulty digestion was the chief cause of nerve exhaustion, a cure would be much easier, for he would then strengthen the digestive organs with Mi-o-na stomach tablets.

A few days' use of these tablets will tone and strengthen the digestive system so that it will absorb all the elements of nerve force from the daily food, and the nerves will be strengthened, sleeplessness will be overcome, weakness will vanish, and the various functions of the body will become natural and regular.

If you have specks before your eyes, are sleepless, have nervous twitches, headaches and backaches, if there is nausea or distress after eating, if the appetite is poor and there is general debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once, and you will soon notice a marked improvement in health. It will give strength and vigor to the whole digestive system, restore the vital force and nerve energy, and impart ambition, strength and good spirit to the discouraged, run-down and weak.

You run no risk whatever in buying Mi-o-na, for E. J. Jenkins gives an absolute guarantee with every 50-cent box that the money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na does all that is claimed for it.

THE NEW VISIBLE

FOX

At Last a Perfect Visible Typewriter

The One Typewriter That Correctly Solves the Objections That Have Always Heretofore Been Made Against "Front Strike" Machines.

Visible writing has always been considered as desirable by practically all typewriter manufacturers, but the difficulties to be overcome in construction in order to secure durability have discouraged the very large adoption of these machines. The invention of the method of assembling the type bars as it is done in the Fox Visible has, however, made possible the use of a wide pivotal bearing in the type hanger, thus insuring the most perfect alignment at all times and a durability that is equal to that claimed for any "basket type" machine. In building this new model, we have all the advantage of the knowledge that we have gained in building and placing the regular Fox models on the market and we are able to avoid all those experiments found in new machines which are so expensive to the purchaser.

Here is a Short Description.

THE TYPE HANGER—The hanger has a pivot bearing 7-16 of an inch wide. This allows the use of a heavy type bar, providing an adjustable pivot bearing which takes up wear as it occurs, thereby giving a permanent alignment that is impossible to secure with a narrow bearing without adjustment, and avoiding the trouble caused where "forced alignment" is necessary. This is the feature that has heretofore been considered as being impossible to secure in a visible writing typewriter. It is found only in the Fox and places the Fox Visible in a class by itself.

TWO COLOR RIBBON—The ribbon movement on this machine is simply perfection. It reverses and oscillates automatically, requiring no attention from the operator from the time it is put on until worn out. When a two color ribbon is used, by simply touching a button on the keyboard the second color is secured instantly without raising the hand or even looking.

THE INTERCHANGEABLE CARRIAGE—The carriage is so constructed that it can be quickly removed and a carriage of different length substituted. One machine can be purchased with different sizes of carriages, thereby effecting a great saving over the ordinary method of buying a long carriage machine complete. The carriage is ball bearing and runs with a tension of only 1 lb. PERFECT VISIBLE WRITING—The entire line is visible all the time.

THE KEY TENSION—The force required on the part of the operator to print a letter is only 2 1/2 ounces. This is from 25 to 50 per cent. less than any other. It is a vital thing both from the operator's standpoint of less fatigue and the owner's of greater durability.

THE LINE LOCK—When the carriage reaches the end of a line, the keys lock and nothing more can be written until the release button is used or the carriage returned to begin a new line.

ALUMINUM KEY LEVERS—Key levers are made of aluminum. It is more expensive than steel or wood, but it is very much more desirable.

TABULATOR—The Fox ten stop decimal tabulator is attached when ordered, at slight additional expense. It is the only decimal tabulator in use on a visible typewriter.

Every feature on this machine has been tried out and demonstrated as successful on the Regular Models of the Fox. Unprejudiced experts have without hesitation pronounced the machine a marvel.

Ask your nearest typewriter dealer to show you this machine. If he cannot we will make it easy for you.

The regular models of the Fox are still the most perfect machines of their kind and their manufacture will be continued as before.
